Mr. Alfred Harvey
Harvey Famous Names Comics, Inc.
1860 Broadway
New York, New York 10023

Dear Mr. Harvey:

As a former GI, I am a big fan of Sad Sack and I appreciate this opportunity to welcome your millions of readers to the great State of Florida.

The attractions Florida offers for both the young and not so young are as varied as the colors of the rainbow. From historical monuments that symbolize the very birth of our Nation to the tremendous space port at Cape Kennedy, the doorway to the Moon, Florida is a living book of history. From the largest fantasyland of all, Disney World, to the beautiful natural beaches, Florida has something for every member of the family.

Bright sunshine, clear air and clean water may be found in abundance in Florida. The warmth of our climate is matched only by the warmth of our citizens, who welcome more than 25,000,000 visitors a year.

Sincerely,

Reubin Askew
Governor

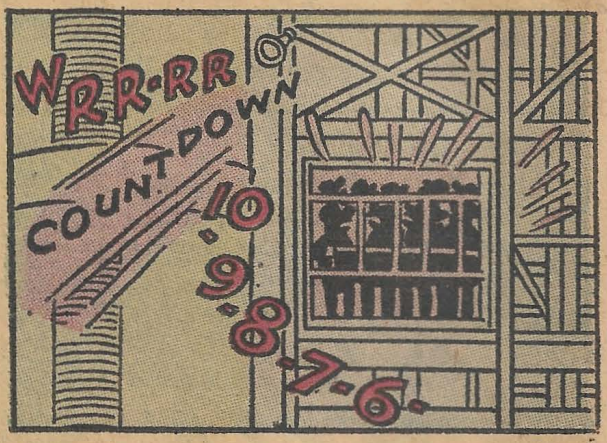
Sad Sack, Sarge and Sadie were enjoying their trip looking at all the sights in Florida. The most exciting event to them, however, was waiting for the Apollo rocket to blast off from the pad at the Kennedy Space Center. They were standing a long distance away with the rest of the Tourists—watching and waiting. It was taking a long time and everyone was getting restless! The Sarge wasn't restless because he was resting. In fact, he was sleeping under a palm tree! "Come on!" Sack shook the Sarge awake. "We've got to get a closer look than this!" Sadie and Sack got the Sarge to his feet, but he was still half asleep and dozing on his feet. They got in their rented car and drove to the entrance of the Kennedy Space Center. There were so many other cars going in and out that no one checked them as they drove in. Anyway, everyone thought they belonged there because of their army uniforms.

They parked their cars in the huge parking lot and started walking toward the giant Apollo rocket. A small flat white truck drove along and stopped. "Are you the three observers for the army?" the driver asked. "Yes; we're observing," Sadie answered. "Hop on!" the driver motioned. Sack, Sadie and Sarge quickly jumped onto the little flat white truck and sat on the seats. They noticed the sign on the driver's side. It read: "Special Officials!" Sad Sack felt very important as they rode by the high ranking brass sitting on bleachers. "Whatever you want to see; just tell me!" the driver said. "We want to cooperate all we can with you army people!" he added. The Sarge was still nodding and dozing while they drove along.



"Can you take us closer to the rocket launching pad?" Sadie asked. The little white flat truck immediately pulled up right next to the gigantic Apollo rocket! It was huge, jutting way up into the sky.

They all got off the truck for a better look. The Sarge was still very sleepy and groggy! He stumbled along with the Sack and Sadie with his eyes half open. The driver of the truck pinned some badges on the three of them. "This way the guards will know you're officials!" he said, "Now look around all you want!"

Sadie was standing in the elevator. "Going up!" she said as the Sack guided the Sarge into the elevator, too. Up on the top, a lot of technicians and engineers were getting the capsule ready for the astronauts. "Everybody clear this area," one of them announced, as the Sack, Sarge and Sadie stood to the side. The astronauts were now coming up on the elevator. They were in their white spacesuits. Sadie was thrilled to be so close to them! They watched as the astronauts entered the hatch of the command module.

The scientists and engineers were working on a lot of gadgets all over the place. A signal buzzer went off. "Everybody clear the platform for blast off!" The elevator went down with the first load of people and returned for the others. The last load started down on the elevator.

The elevator was packed solid. Sad Sack and Sadie were pushed against the rear. "Stand by for blast off!" the loudspeaker growled. The elevator was only halfway down! A loud siren went off just above Sadie's head. "W-R-R-R-R-R!" It jolted Sadie flat against the side of the elevator. "Countdown starting!" the loudspeaker announced. As the countdown started, the elevator stopped. "WE'RE STUCK!" If the elevator didn't soon get to the bottom, it would blast into outer space along with the Apollo rocket. "The elevator lost its power because all the power is being used up by the rocket to start its engines!" one of the engineers said with a look of horror on his face. "Up 'til now, I was enjoying the tour!" Sadie said to Sack who was too scared to answer! The countdown kept getting lower and lower. The lower the countdown got, the lower the Sad Sack felt! The last warning signal went off: B-RR-RAA-ACK! It was a loud rasping noise. Everyone in the elevator was starting to panic. Click!. The elevator motor started and they were on the way down.

Everybody got off the elevator at the bottom. Everyone was relieved. The panic was over. "Where's the Sarge?" the Sack screamed. "He wasn't on the elevator—he must be up there sleeping!" Sadie said. Just then the rocket blasted off and headed for the moon. The poor Sack was in a dither with worry. Sadie tapped the Sack on the shoulder and said, "The Sarge must have come down on the first elevator load!"

The Sarge was dozing under the palm tree!

In 1894, a boy had to learn to act like a man.

Daisy's 1894™ B·B Gun teaches the same lessons.

Back then, a kid had to grow up fast. He was expected to learn marksmanship and gun safety at an early age.

Today, you can learn the same lessons with the Daisy 1894 B•B Gun, a "Spittin' Image"™ of the frontiersman's carbine.

It has the same side-loading port, lever action, sights, and thumb-back hammer safety. It's not a toy. It's a B•B gun.

And now you can learn marksmanship with the exciting Daisy B•B Target-Trap.

It's a $4 value, now yours for only $1.99 when you buy any Daisy B B Gun. Take the coupon below to your store when you buy.

For even more fun, pick-up our booklet, "The Air Rifle Marksman," where you buy your Daisy. It's only 50c.

Learn the lessons of the old West with the Daisy 1894! Or choose from over 30 other models of Daisy B•B spring-air, CO_2, and pellet guns.

Since the 1800's, American boys have learned marksmanship with a Daisy. Now it's your turn.

Daisy B·B Target-Trap. $1.99

with purchase of any Daisy B•B Gun.
A $4 value.

The kit includes: Trap frame to catch B•Bs / Targetex rubber backstop / Daisy Air Rifle Manual / Full set of NRA 15-foot match targets / Full set of "Pop-Out Bullseye Targets" / (See the Bullseye "Pop-Out" when you hit it!)
